

BOOSTERS' CLUB AND WHAT IT IS DOING.

ALTHOUGH the roster of The Boosters' Club is published in the Daily Press this morning for the last time, it is to be hoped that the club will live in the minds of its members, and be kept by them before the public, for many a day to come. As soon as possible the management of this paper will issue a small booklet, containing a brief history of The Boosters' Club and a list of the members. This little publication should be an interesting souvenir of the Tercentenary period and may serve to remind those who joined the ranks of the boosters of their creed.

It big crowds are ever coming to the Jamestown Exposition, they will be here during the next three months. Therefore, it is very necessary for boosters to keep their creed in mind this summer and never let pass an opportunity to say a good word for their home town and the fair. A little word dropped here and there sometimes brings big results.

Boosters should remember that their work, which incidentally costs neither time nor trouble, is for their own benefit as well as for the benefit of the city and the Exposition. It is just as easy to say something bright and cheerful as it is to grumble, and even if you do happen to know something that is not especially creditable to Newport News or the Exposition, it would be wiser and better in every way to keep this bit of information to yourself, or, if advisable, communicate it to the proper authorities, instead of heralding it abroad.

Below is given a complete list of members of The Booster Club. These names are copied from books left at the banks and hotels or from blanks sent into the office and, as some of the most prominent citizens do not write the most legible of hands, it is possible that some mistakes have been made. If anyone finds that his or her name has been misspelled, The Daily Press office should be notified at once, so that the error may be corrected before this souvenir booklet is published. It is possible, also, that one or more names may have been inadvertently omitted, and if this has been done the management will be glad to have its attention called to the fact as soon as possible.
